ABOUT COMMUNITY

Today

Today, the Starobilsk community consists of thousands of people who have left the temporarily occupied territory and moved to other regions of Ukraine or abroad. It also includes several organizations that have started operating in regions controlled by the Ukrainian government.

Under martial law, the Starobilsk City Military Administration was established to manage the community, operating on the basis of Presidential Order No. 665/2022 of September 23, 2022, "On the Establishment of Military Administrations in Settlements in the Luhansk Region."

The community has the following departments: administrative services, education, child support, and social protection. Educational institutions continue to operate remotely, medical facilities have resumed work in new locations, and communication channels have been established to keep residents informed about what is happening in the community.

A public humanitarian hub has been created—a coworking center for internally displaced persons called "My Luhansk Region," which operates in Lviv.

According to the List of territories where hostilities are (were) conducted or temporarily occupied by the Russian Federation, approved by Order of the Ministry of Development of Communities and Territories of Ukraine No. 376 of February 28, 2025, "On Approval of the List of Territories Where Hostilities Are (Were) Conducted or Temporarily Occupied by the Russian Federation," registered with the Ministry of Justice of Ukraine on March 11, 2025, under No. 380/43786, the Starobilsk city territorial community is included in the list of temporarily occupied territories, with the occupation beginning on February 28, 2022.

In the spotlight of the Starobilsk municipal community

The community's main task is to support its residents through social support programs, health improvement for children from disadvantaged groups, support for medical and educational institutions, and other measures, within the limits of available opportunities and resources. The programs are implemented using the local budget and through cooperation with various partners.

We are also working to strengthen the capacity of relocated organizations and departments in the context of martial law and to provide high quality services to citizens.

The community is interested in expanding international cooperation to implement projects aimed at community development in the context of relocation, and in building international partnerships at the municipal and city levels to rebuild the community after de-occupation.

It is important to retain human resources, as qualified specialists are needed for effective community management, the development and implementation of development strategies, and the provision of high quality public services to the population, which will contribute to economic recovery.

SOCIAL FIELD (today)

The Social Protection Department of the Starobilsk City Council has resumed its work in the city of Lviv. Residents of the Starobilsk community come here for consultations and various types of social assistance. Explanations are provided both in person and by telephone. Employees accept documents for receiving financial assistance and prepare documents for the rehabilitation of children from vulnerable categories.

In order to inform citizens about the different types of assistance, the Department's staff organizes meetings to which they invite representatives of partner non-governmental organizations and foundations to explain issues of relevance to IDPs.

CULTURE (today)

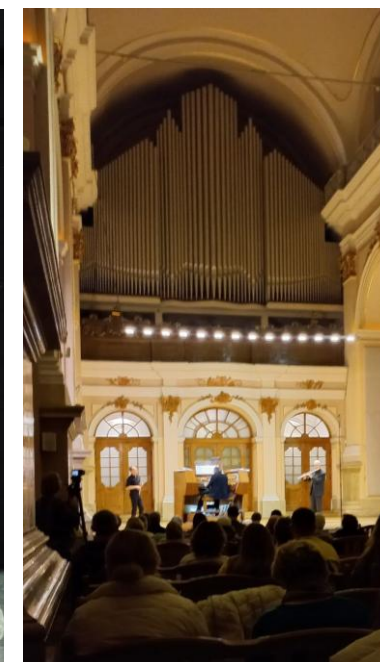

No cultural institution in the community has resumed its activities in the territory controlled by the Ukrainian government. In this regard, the work of the Department of Culture, Tourism, and Cultural Heritage Protection of the Starobilsk City Council has been transformed. The department's current tasks include communicating with forcibly displaced community members, providing them with cultural services, and integrating them into host communities.

The community's culture department is actively continuing its work to preserve intangible cultural heritage.

The element “Tradition of herbalism in the Starobilsk region” has been included in the National List of Elements of Intangible Cultural Heritage of Ukraine. This activity is aimed at preserving unique traditions, forming cultural identity and a sense of unity among residents, their connection to the history and traditions of their native land, regardless of where they are today.

Internally displaced persons from Luhansk region who have moved to Lviv and the surrounding area are invited to attend meetings at the library, events held at the Luhansk My Home coworking center, concerts at the Lviv Organ Hall, and more.

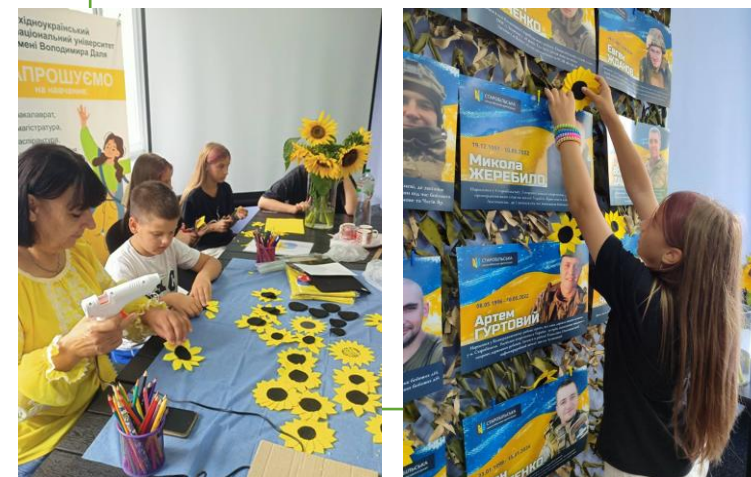

PUBLIC COWORKING CENTER FOR IDPs “LUGANSHCHINA MOYA”

It brought together IDPs from the Luhansk region and provided access to various services: from consultations with doctors and employment service specialists to library use and updating military service data with the help of a CNAU administrator. The coworking center also offers a comfortable place to study and relax, free use of office equipment, and a space

It is a hub of trust, support, and integration. It brings IDPs together through educational initiatives, creative workshops, and psychological support, promoting unity and strengthening the community.

This is a place where every visitor of the coworking center feels like a member of a big family, where everyone works for mutual development, helping each other.
